THE LOST NARONIC.

Proof That the Missing White Star Line Freighter

HAS GONE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

Her Boats Seen Floating at the Mercy of the Waves—Part of Her Crew Believed to Have Been Rescued.

The Lost Freighter.

BREMER, March 21.—After long-continued anxiety regarding the fate of the White Star line freighter Naronic, which sailed from Liverpool, February 11, for New York, and which had not since been heard of, intelligence has been received showing beyond any doubt that the vessel is lost. The British steamer Coventry, Capt. Wilson, from Pernambuco, February 19, has arrived at this port. She reports that at 2 o'clock in the morning of March 4, when in latitude 49 north, longitude 40 west, she passed a lifeboat palatial, bearing the name "Naronic." The boat was floating on the surface of the water. The lifeboat was seen at a distance of about 10 miles. The lifeboat was seen at a distance of about 10 miles. The lifeboat was seen at a distance of about 10 miles.

The Naronic's Boats.

BREMER, March 21.—Capt. Wilson, the commander of the Coventry, states that he was not able to plainly decipher the name on the first lifeboat passed by the steamer, though there is no doubt in his mind that it was the "Naronic." The boat being capsized, rendered the reading of the name almost impossible, as the letters could only be seen when the ends of the boat were thrown clear out of the water. When the Coventry came within the second lifeboat the name was plainly discernible. This second boat was half-filled with water. Its appearance led Capt. Wilson to believe that the occupants had been taken on board some vessel, after which the boat was cast adrift.

Refusal to Abandon All Hope.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Mr. R. Maltby, New York agent for the White Star line, which the Naronic belongs, said today that the Naronic has not gone down, and says: "The finding of the boats reported by the steamer Coventry does not in any way prove that the Naronic is lost. A big sea may have carried these boats overboard while the Naronic, perhaps with her machinery disabled, was laboring against the storm." This opinion, however, is hardly borne out by the facts as related yesterday from Bremer, which show that the boats had been capsized and navigated. It is quite probable that some vessel has picked up the occupants of these boats, and they will eventually be heard from and the fate of the Naronic known.

MISCONSTRUED.

What Judge Ricks' Remarks to the Striking Railroaders Meant.

CLEVELAND, O., March 21.—It was stated yesterday that the remarks made by Judge Ricks at Toledo upon the apparent grant of a writ of habeas corpus to a man who had been arrested by the police, were not intended to make them any part of the court proceedings beyond advice to the men as to what they should do in the face of the court's order. They were not extended in the nature of a decision, as the case had not at that time come up for trial. Today at the hearing at Toledo it was expected that a decision will be rendered.

The Action Against the Lake Shore Engineers Continued.

TOLEDO, O., March 21.—Judge Ricks did not put in an appearance here yesterday afternoon, and consequently the hearing of the complaints against the Lake Shore engineers was postponed to handle Ann Arbor freight Saturday was continued until this afternoon.

A Sincere for Ex-President Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 21.—The trustees of the State university at Bloomington have determined to offer ex-President Harrison the presidency of the university, and several of them were here yesterday in consultation over that matter. The trustees did not visit the ex-president, but conferred with some of his friends, and a formal tender of the position will be made this week. The plan of the trustees is to make Mr. Harrison president of the institution with the understanding that he will give the university only a limited amount of personal attention. They will expect him to visit the university at stated intervals, and look after the law department especially.

Flour Mills and Elevator Burned.

STEWART, Neb., March 21.—The large new flour mill and elevator owned by Messrs. Dean & Co. were totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Loss on buildings, $20,000; on flour and grain, $100,000; amount at about one-fourth of the value.

The president sent the following nominations to the senate yesterday:

The First Step Against Reorganization.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The first step toward the reorganization of the senate, as a body, looking to the prevention of the reorganization of the elective officers of the senate was taken at a caucus held yesterday morning in the office of the sergeant-at-arms. There was a very large attendance, almost every republican senator being present. Mr. Sherman presided. Speeches were made by Senators Sherman, Hoar, Callahan, Chandler and others.

It was announced that the democratic caucus committee, which will report to a democratic caucus to be held today, has suggested a plan for the reorganization of the elective officers. The senators who spoke and that this was in violation of all the precedents, that the senate had never before taken such a step, and that to attempt it now would be to the detriment of the working force and cause great injury to the public interest.

The republicans say they have the power to prevent reorganization, and if the plan comes they will use it with as good effect as their opponents did twelve years ago.

The Pension Office.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—It is expected that within the next few days the president will send to the senate the nomination of a commissioner of pensions, and many changes in policy as to pensions and reorganization will be rendered until the new administration has had an opportunity to familiarize himself with the duties and needs of the office. In the meantime Secretary Smith will continue to sign all pensions as they are presented to him. The daily issue of pension certificates has fallen off very little, if any, during the present month, and it is believed that the secretary's firm purpose to faithfully administer the pension laws as they exist and no one who furnishes evidence proving his right to a pension and who is not denied full justice. It is also stated, however, on equally good authority, that questionable cases will be thoroughly investigated to the end that fraudulent and improper claims may be reduced to a minimum.

Four Gallies at the White House.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—There were four gallies at the White House yesterday. This was due to the fact that the president reserves Mondays for work and the reception of such persons as he may desire to see. The gallies included yesterday morning Mr. Wm. F. Harris, chairman of the national democratic committee, and Mr. W. U. Russell, attorney-general of Pennsylvania. Their visit was very brief and, according to Mr. Harris, very pleasant. The two Pennsylvania politicians will give the president no more than a passing notice.

Managers Errors in the Enrollment of Bills.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The numerous errors that have come to light in the enrollment of important appropriations bills at the last session have been discussed for an hour in the senate yesterday. More than ninety such errors were stated by Mr. Hale to have been discovered by the managers of the bill alone. Various resolutions as to clerks of committees and changes of rules were offered, but not acted on, and the senate adjourned until Wednesday next.

THE COAL COMBINE.

The "Iniquitous Gang of Thieves and Marauders"

RECEIVES A BLACK EYE AT EVERY TURN

In Its Gait Against the Minnesota Legislature to Remove Its Letter-Book—The Legislature Declared to Be a Supreme Body.

St. Paul, Minn., March 21.—The Minnesota Bureau of Coal Statistics, known to the general public as the Hard Coal combine, received a black eye at every turn yesterday. There was a wild scene in the district court at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Respectable John J. Walsh, in possession of the letter-books of John J. Rhodes, general manager of the combine, had just been placed on the stand, and had just been placed on the stand, and had just been placed on the stand.

Several deputy sheriffs and other officers of the court moved forward, and a conflict seemed certain, when Judge Egan dismissed Mr. Walsh from the stand and told him he could go to the capitol if he desired. Sergeant-at-Arms Walsh had just come from the house with an order for Walsh.

In the senate session speeches were being made. Senator Sargent introduced a resolution referring the controversy over the letter-books to the six judges of Ramsey county sitting en banc. This excited the ire of Senator Donnelly, who said:

"The legislative body is supreme. It does not have to look to the little court of Ramsey county for a decision. You send for papers and seized them as the direct result of a resolution of the legislature. Why are you so afraid of the legislature? Why are you so afraid of the legislature? Why are you so afraid of the legislature?"

The latest sensational turn of the case was taken last evening, when John J. Rhodes, general manager of the coal combine, brought suit in the district court to restrain the people of the joint legislative committee and its officers, alleging that they kept from him his property and ruined his business.

THE HAWAIIAN MISSION.

Ex-Congressman Blount Arrives at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Ex-Congressman James H. Blount, commissioner of Hawaii, accompanied by Mrs. Blount and Ellis Mills, telegrapher, arrived from Washington yesterday morning and shortly after noon started for Honolulu on the United States steamer Albatross. Senator Blount was seen for a few minutes before boarding the ship, and upon being requested to say something about his mission, replied: "My mission, as far as I am concerned, is to see that the Hawaiian people are treated as equals, and in regard to those instructions I am absolutely unable at present to give any information to the public. I would like to do so, but I cannot. I am sorry to hear that I am there, and I shall very likely return on her."

Capt. Hooper, who commands the ship, expects to make the trip in about eight days.

ON for Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Ex-Congressman Blount and party boarded the ship immediately on their arrival here yesterday. The ship then started on her voyage to Honolulu.

Mrs. Susan Day Granted a Divorce.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., March 21.—It only yesterday became known that Judge White heard the divorce case of Susan O. Day vs. William A. Day in Champaign circuit court, Saturday afternoon. Day was formerly a prominent lawyer and mayor of this city, and became nationally prominent during the administration of the late president. He was a member of the second cabinet of the president. Mrs. Day, according to herself and servants of the Day household in Washington, was the victim of the most brutal and inhuman attacks on the part of her husband. Mrs. Day was granted a decree of divorce.

Kidnaped and Malreated by a Negro.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Charles Hamilton, a hotel owner of Brooklyn, came to Chicago Sunday in quest of his 16-year-old son, Richard, who disappeared from home nine months ago. Sunday night officers discovered the boy in the room of a colored man on West Randolph street. He told a horrible story of maltreatment at the hands of the negro, and the latter was arrested and held to answer the boy's charges. When found young Hamilton's face was discolored from the beatings he had received from the negro.

Crushed to Death in an Elevator.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 21.—John Bruner, 28 years of age, a shipping clerk at E. Hamilton's music store, with a heart ailment, was crushed to death by a piano elevator yesterday afternoon. His head was caught between the sills of the elevator and a crossbeam and he was crushed to death.

THE favorite romantic and heroic actor, Robert Mantell, supported by a capable company, presented the somewhat oppressive play, "The Face in the Moonlight," at the Grand last night. Curtain calls were frequent. In the dual role Mr. Mantell displayed his ability to good advantage and must have been flattered by the reception he received. The audience was large.

LADIES MAKE A KICK.

Sheriff Perri Subjected to Pointed Questions at the Jail.

Sheriff Perri had a new experience yesterday at the county jail. Like reporters he meets all sorts of people, and nearly everybody who has a kick to register finds him sooner or later. During Sunday two ladies visited the jail. They had a talk with some of the men below, and then chatted with Jossie King, in custody for being implicated in the robbery of Frank Cora.

Yesterday the same ladies visited Sheriff Perri. They found him in his parlor. They came to make some inquiries as to the management of the jail. They had talked with Otto Paro, the prisoner whose mother, Officer Leach, assaulted. Paro said he told them that he had suffered indignities at the hands of the prisoners—that he had had money sent him by his mother stolen from him, and that love letters written him by Miss McCollum had been wrested from him. The ladies thought such treatment of prisoners should not be tolerated. The sheriff intimated in plain language that Paro was a great liar, and had imposed upon the credulity of the ladies. They could hardly believe that Paro was a tough, he had talked so smoothly to them.

And then they wondered why it was that poor Jossie King was kept in jail so long. The sheriff replied that the principal was Jossie had been unable to give bail. A few days ago Jossie became noisy and Johnny Perri undertook to put her in another cell. She fought him like a tiger and attempted to murder him with a pair of scissors. But for the sudden appearance of the sheriff John might have been fatally injured. Jossie was kicked by the sheriff across the hall into the opposite cell. The ladies protested against such treatment of a woman by the sheriff, but Perri endeavored to demonstrate that it was difficult to control ugly prisoners except by using force.

THE U. B. REVELING.

Interest in the revel at the United Brethren Church continues to increase.

At an early hour last night, the house was filled. At the close of the usual song service, Mrs. Little sang a solo "It Must Be Settled Tonight," which served as a foundation for the eccentric evangelist.

He showed the folly of exhausting all our time and energy in preparing for this life only, while an eternal destiny awaits us and demands a share of our time and energy.

The necessity of the "New Birth," to enable one to be ready for eternity, was put in strong bible terms. Each day, week, month and year is bringing us nearer to heaven or hell. In answer to the call for penitents five persons presented themselves at the altar for prayer, four of whom were blest. At the close of the service four united with the church.

Whiskey Makes Trouble.

W. G. Lee, of Illinois, has brought suit in the circuit court at Springfield against Ferris Rendon. The suit is for $5,000 damages claimed by the complainant for injuries done him and his business by alleged slanderous talk circulated by the defendant. The parties live at Illinois and the plaintiff alleges that Mr. Rendon had circulated the report that he brought liquor from Decatur and Niantic and sold it, which statement he denies. Several days ago an appeal was filed in the circuit court by the plaintiff in the case of the Village of Illinois vs. W. G. Lee, the case charging him with selling liquor to minors and also for selling liquor, having been dismissed, as there was insufficient evidence to hold him.

A Wise Selection.

The renomination by the Republicans of Marco township of J. H. Parker is a compliment to a worthy man. Mr. Parker has been one of the best members in the board. He has shown himself to be a man of good judgment and he takes hold of all business that comes before the board in the right way and never forgets to act in the interests of the people.

Another commendable trait in the character of Mr. Parker is that he covers names to be wisest than the majority, an attitude that men sometimes assume with the view of creating the impression that they are very wise and peculiarly honest.

Matrimonial.

G. W. Hall and Miss Mary Oldewiler were married at the home of John Oldewiler in Orem, on Monday, March 20.

The young couple have gone to Indianapolis on a bridal tour and will make their future home at Danville, Ind., where the groom will teach music. The bride has served with general acceptability as postmistress at Orem under Harrison's administration.

M. F. Kanan for Mayor.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found the announcement of Capt. M. F. Kanan as a candidate for Mayor, subject to the action of the Republican city convention. Captain Kanan has held the office of Mayor of this city several terms. He was first elected in 1885, again in 1887, and again in 1890. To those who lived in Decatur during that period his course as the chief officer of the city is familiar. It is anticipated there will be no question of his election.

An Explosion.

While the local Washburn freight No. 70 was at work last evening the train engine attempted to get an oil tank car with water and the tank exploded, Engineer Johnson being hurled many yards away and instantly killed, and brakeman Peebles both legs broken. ### HORROR AT LITCHFIELD.

Terrific Boiler Explosion in the Taylorville Flouring Mill.

Half the Town Reported Wrecked and Many People Killed.

(SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN.)

LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 21.—This morning by the terrific boiler explosion at the Planot Flouring mills, nearly half of the town was destroyed.

The milling plant was entirely destroyed and hundreds of dwellings and business blocks were shattered.

Many persons whose names can not now be ascertained were killed and injured throughout the town.

The explosion and wreckage on the railway tracks caused the delay of trains going in all directions.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

(SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN.)

LITCHFIELD, Ill., March 21.—The Planot mills, owned by Kepler Bros., St. Louis, the largest winter wheat mills in the United States, were destroyed by fire this morning. Soon after the fire was discovered the walls of the mill were shattered by an immense explosion, which tore down the whole structure and was felt throughout the surrounding country. Houses in the immediate vicinity of the mill were scattered and torn and the debris of the mill scattered for blocks. The elevators, which have a storage capacity of 1,400,000 bushels, were well filled with wheat, and were burned. The loss to the Kepler Bros. is about $100,000. John Carri, a millwright, was killed and his body burned to a crisp. Deceased has a family at Waterloo, Ill., and was aged about 35 years. Many persons were burned by falling timbers and out by glass. But not one fatally injured.

IT WAS A CLOSE RUB.

The Game of Whist as Played at the Decatur Club.

There was a slight change last night at the Decatur club rooms in playing the favorite game of duplicate whist, in which the Champs, excel, often to the envy and mortification of the Chumps.

The change was choosing sides to bring out new talent, and William Traver and W. O. Johns selected players from the gentlemen present. The names of the champion players are printed in Roman, the chumps in Italic. The score was as follows:

Hays and Harwood.....124

Davis and Powers.....120

Pratt and Campbell.....118

R. E. Durbin and Lee.....115

Dorris and Bartholomew.....112

Leander and Brock.....110

Johnson and Sherman.....108

Johnson and Gungerson.....104

Glenworth and Abbott.....102

Woodell and Forner.....100

Traver and Stiller.....100

Kemp and Myers.....100

Smith and Vayshak.....100

Geo. Durbin and Kanan.....100

Total—Traver's team.....1276

Total—Johns' team.....1273

It will be observed that there was no room for much bragging on either side, as there was only a difference of two points in favor of the Traver team.

A HUMAN HYMN.

"A Tale of Livid Damnation," in Which Hon. W. A. Day, of Champaign is the Villain.

Many of the readers of the REPUBLICAN will remember W. A. Day, of Champaign, who represented his district in the legislature in the thirty-third general assembly and afterward was elected mayor of Champaign and when Cleveland became president of the first time, was made second auditor of the treasury. Mr. Day is a Democrat and his election as mayor in the Republican city of Champaign showed in what high esteem he was held by the people. It seems however that all the time during which he held the respect of those who knew him, he was out-matching the history of "Dr. Jekyll and Dr. Hyde." While his outward or public conduct was all that could be desired, in his home he was a human demon.

Not able longer to endure the treatment by her husband, Mrs. Day brought suit in the Champaign county circuit court for divorce. The case was heard a few days ago by Judge Wright. The evidence as to Day's cruelty to his wife was not all required. The judge only heard enough to warrant a decree, and he promptly allowed it. The evidence showed that his cruelty began shortly after his marriage in 1870 with his wife, who was a Miss Halstead, the daughter of a prominent business man in Urbana, and was going on when Day was being honored by the people. Part of the testimony was too bad to print. It was proven that he repeatedly struck and choked her, and at one time when she was on her knees before him pleading the rights of the wife, he struck and choked her repeatedly. The abuse became more and more as they had gone to Washington. The testimony of Mrs. Day was supported by a colored domestic who had lived with the family in Washington and was an eye witness to many of Day's attacks on his wife.

The Champaign people who thought they knew W. A. Day were surprised at the revelations as to his true character brought out in the trial. One of those who heard the testimony called it "a tale of livid damnation," and another remarked that "the very enormity of some men's offenses furnish a protection to them."

Mrs. Day's attorney was J. L. Ray, and Col. J. H. Wolf appeared for the respondent.

Fred Smith's Papers.

This morning the Review with the evident purpose of injuring the Republican candidate said:

"Fred Smith had his petition (nominating papers) mysteriously but not lost. It is so Fred will not be a candidate for senator this year. He claims somebody grabbed the petition out of his hand and tore it up. Fred is in a hard luck."

Fred Smith makes no such claim as this. He is a man of good sense and knows very well that the last day to file nomination papers was Saturday. He knows that such papers not filed before Monday would be useless, and he had no thought of filing papers Monday. Mr. Smith voluntarily decided last Saturday not to file his papers, and there are plenty of witnesses to that fact.

Japanese Reception.

This evening Miss Mattie Jensen, assisted by members of her S. S. class and Mrs. A. P. Jensen, will give a novel social entertainment at the home of her grandparents, Aid. and Mrs. W. H. Bramble on Spring Avenue. The parlors will be beautifully decorated a la Japanese, and there will be a theatrical performance which will be in the nature of a surprise. Handsome Jap costumes, ten in number, have been procured from Peoria. It will be an elaborate affair socially, and there will be toothsome refreshments and splendid music. Everybody is invited. Admission free.

Suffrage Meeting.

Mrs. Charlie Line Chapman of New York, will speak under the auspices of the Equal Suffrage Association at the Christian Church on Wednesday evening, March 22nd at 8:15 o'clock. Some of the city pastors have kindly consented to close their prayer meeting at 8:15 so that all may have an opportunity of hearing this gifted lady. No admission fee, but a collection will be taken to defray local expenses. The High School Main-dollin Club will furnish music.

NAOMI PRINCE-COLLINS, Sec.

The Presbyterian Meeting.

In spite of the bad weather last night the church was almost filled with a most interested audience. The sermon of Mr. Patterson was great in its simplicity and made a deep impression upon those who heard it. Rev. W. M. Moore, of Centralia, who has charge of the service, is a splendid singer. He has the faculty of getting everybody to sing. The meeting at 9:30 this morning was large and helpful. Services to-night at 7:30. All are invited.

The New York Sun (Dem.) commenting on Harrison's administration says:

To his everlasting honor be it remembered that he was one of the first of American statesmen to recognize and appreciate the broad significance of that great revival of the American spirit which works the end of the nineteenth century. Whatever may have been his short comings in other respects he has never wavered in his fidelity to the flag that is the glory and pride of our sixty-five millions of people.

SECRETARY GREENHAM wanted Judge Allen advanced as his successor on the bench. In this Greenham was seconded by Senator Palmer, but Cleveland appointed Judge Jenkins of Wisconsin. Comment is unnecessary.

The King family of Port Oren, N. J., is a remarkably heavy lot. There are eight persons in the family, and their combined weight is 1,687 pounds.
